StoneX to Host 15th Annual Discovery 1x1 Investor Conference in New York City

November 12, 2026

This conference will connect institutional investors with management teams from more than 50 public and private companies across emerging growth and innovative sectors

NEW YORK, Nov. 12, 2026 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- StoneX Group Inc. (NASDAQ: SNEX) ("StoneX") today announced that it will host its 15th Annual Discovery 1x1 Investor Conference on December 10, 2026, at the New York Athletic Club in New York City.

The conference will bring together institutional investors and management teams from more than 50 public and private companies for one-on-one and small-group meetings. Participating companies represent a broad range of industries, including technology, artificial intelligence, fintech, digital assets, healthcare, energy, industrials, software and consumer sectors.

Through its Corporate Access platform, StoneX facilitates direct dialogue between investors and corporate management teams, providing opportunities for participants to exchange perspectives, build relationships and explore companies across a range of sectors. The event also reflects StoneX's broader investment banking and capital markets capabilities and its commitment to serving corporate issuers and institutional investors.
